VISITING COMMITTEE,

THE COLLEGIATE COURSE,

which is designed to embrace all branches, really mercantle, has been recently enlarged, and can now be regarded as one of the most lengthy, thorough and complete ever introduced to the public in any similar institution in the United States.

THE BOOK-KEEPING DEPART-

embraces three distinct grades, viz: Initiato ry, Regular and Extended Courses, and taught on Folsom's New Method, recommended byover twenty of the most reliable practical Ac countants of Cleveland.

THE NEW METHOD OF TEACHING BOOKS AND DRUGS strees at the very germinatoints of tehing-THE NEW METHOD OF TEACHING atrikes at the very germinatorints of tchingd Science, revealing the great natural two-fold division of the Ledger, whereby is seen the proper line of demarcatior, between Real and Representative property, and the governing law of transfer, as regards its affecting the two classes of accounts, and those of the same class in every variety of transactions, thus stripping this most useful and beautiful science of much of its time-honored mysteries, made such by arbitrary and infallible rules, meaningless forms and labse notions; and hence enables the student to acquire correct notions of accounts as embodied in actual practice.

THE INITIARY COURSE

embraces a regularly progressive series or manuscript cards, classified somewhat as to the variety of transactions. It aims to develop the first principle and philosophy of Accounts, ather than mere routine and actual formula, by addressing the reason and judgment of the student, who studies with the view of apprehending and arriving at results, and so pushes on hi investigations with much greater confidence, pleasure and independence.

THE RECULIAR COURSE

THE REGULAR COURSE. is intended to represent every species of business, from the smallest Retail to the heaviest and most intricate Wholesale and Commission, as well as Banking, Railroading, &c., demanded, at present, by our vast and constantly increasing Commerce.

THE EXTENDED COURSE

smbraces lengthy practical sets from the various business firms, as is designed for such students as may wish to spend longer than the time required by the Regular course, (and that gratuitonsly.) preparatory to entering some special House.

By taking in addition, the Extended Course, the student will be faithfully and profitably employed six months.

Tenmanship, practical and ornamental, in all its varieties, will be taught in the most thorough and efficient manner by one of the best teachers in the West. Besides the usual method of teaching Business Writing, the Chyrhythmographic system will also be taught.

This system, so popular and recommended by our best educational men, is now laught in the public schools of Cleveland, Columbus and Toledo. Many other places are open for good teachers of Chyrhythography as soon as they can be qualified.

BAILY LECTURES on Practical and Theoretical Book keeping. Moreantile Laws, Commercial Ethics, political Economy, Art of Computation, Commercial Calculations, Mercantile Customs, Banking, Exchange, Commerce, Railroading, Commercial History, Business Correspondence, Penmanship, dc.

The new suite of rooms of this College occupies the facest location in the city situated as they are on the corner of public Square and Superior street, afferding a fair view of most parts of the city and the lake. The rooms are neatly and tastefully furnished, surpassing in beauty and convenience perhaps those of any aimilar Institution in the Union.

THE LADIES' COURSE is the same as that of the Gentlemen, affordis the same as that of the Gentlemen, affording equal facilities to all Ladies who may wish to avail themselves of the Commercial Course.

The Principal, having an extensive busines acquaintance, is enabled to secure good situations for many of his graduates.
